

Dear Neighbors,

We are: _____

Aged: _____

We live at: _____

We got worried about the wireless computers at our school and we found this website about how WiFi and cell phone radiation damages children's immune systems, our DNA, and can give us headaches, dizziness and stop us from sleeping properly:

www.RadiationEducation.com

Here's where you come in: Our house does not have wireless computers – because of the harm to our health. Remember that kids are way more affected than you are because our skulls are thinner, we have more water in our heads (more conductive), and our immune systems are not developed.

But our Mom discovered that we are getting WiFi coming into our house and our BEDROOMS because of our neighbors' wireless internet service – we are receiving damaging radiation night and day from our neighbor's WiFi Internet!

We are begging you to consider switching your internet access to something hard-wired, like cable or dial-up, instead of wireless. Both to protect your own health and ours.

RADIATION HURTS ME – PLEASE CONSIDER THE EFFECT OF YOUR CHOICES

p.s. did you know that cordless phones emit the same radiation as cell phones? So if you have a cordless phone in your house, you may want to think about switching back to a corded one – this has nothing to do with us, but we wanted to let you know for the health of your own family.
